Let’s Talk is an outreach program that offers students convenient access to brief informal consultations with a Student Counseling Center clinician at different sites across campus. MSU students are encouraged to drop by and talk about what is important to them during a 15-20 minute conversation. Clinicians will listen to your concerns and may offer support, information, and resources. Consultations are free and confidential. No appointment is necessary as students are seen on a first-come, first-serve basis. Speaking with a Let’s Talk clinician may provide insights, solutions, and information about other resources to address concerns such as:

- Academic struggles
- Relationship and family issues
- Financial concerns
- Stress
- Transitional anxiety
- Feeling sad

Let’s Talk is not a substitute for individual therapy or other mental health treatment. A Let’s Talk consultation helps a student know what it might be like to speak with a clinician and may help a student decide whether formal therapy at SCS may be more beneficial.
